

THE INFLUENCE OF INVENTORY TURNOVER ON SALES VOLUME IN THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY
IN INDONESIA STOCK EXCHANGE IN 2008-2010

Disusun Oleh:
SAHRULLAH
NIM : 43209110205

ABSTRACT

This study aimed to obtain reliable data to prove how far the influence of inventory turnover on the sales volume in 10 (ten) industrial textile company in Indonesia Stock Exchange in 2008-2010.

This study used a descriptive correlational study using facto exposure data, which is collecting data from all the events that have taken place. The sampling technique is population sampling. The study population is the entire financial statements (balance sheet and profit and loss) of 10 (ten) textile industry companies from year 2008 to 2010, are selected based on criteria. First, listed on the Indonesia Stock Exchange and the Second, no decline in sales in the last two years.

The results of tests by using SPSS 17.0 in this study concludes there is the influence of inventory turnover by 36,3% of the company's sales volume and the remaining 63,7% of other factors which is not examined in this study.

Key words: Inventory Turnover, Sales Volume, SPSS 17.0