

ABSTRACT

At the moment the amount of consumers of motor vehicle type especially in this Indonesian have progressively extend in the various life strata ladder, good at the small society circle scope, and for and scope at the nob. Immeasurable of motor vehicle type which in this world. But of course everybody do not know and comprehend systems work from that motor and immeasurable of other specification, besides because it is true is not profession area wrestled also because of also the lack of passed to socialization is wide of society in recognizing component and type in itself motor vehicle. In the time sometimes someone wish to know information some motor vehicle specifications specially 4-tak this which got the through one source without having to always look for information in a book, other source or article. Besides also motor which also is easy transportation medium and quickly sometimes also have a problem because of something matter. Some problems that happened sometimes still can improve repair and otherwise enable can is also changed by the having problem component newly. Improve, Repairing by self of course it is more economical, user also can document damage and can avoid is the same mistake. This matter is enough differ if improve, repairing at the motor technician because of released expense by dozens compared to improve, repairing by self beforehand identify some problems of arising out before finally decide to change component having problem at the motor newly.
