

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

After going through the ups and down in preparing my thesis, I find it that the process is the most valuable experience of my life. Writing this thesis gave me so many lessons that are believed to be useful for a better future. In the process of writing this thesis, I cannot do it alone without prayer and support from people who always support me, because of that I would to thank:

For the first, the one and only my faith and my savior, I thank the Lord Jesus Christ for always giving His love and His infinite guidance. There are no words that can express how much I am grateful for everything that I have, and all the people who always support me.

For the most important in my life, my beloved family, especially for my father, Joko Halim and my mother, Felicia Yenny (†) who always being my motivation to pass the ups and down that happen in my life. They also give me many lessons to be an independent girl and grateful to live my life and be a blessing to my surrounding. Not forgetting also for my twin sisters, Eka Pratiwi and Ria Pratiwi for being a role model and supporting me in finishing my education.

Third, I would like to deliver my sincere appreciation to Prof. Dana Santoso., M.Eng.Sc., Ph.D as my thesis advisor who gave clear directions and much knowledge that very important to me to finish this thesis, and then to Dr. Noor Prio Sasongko., ME as a finance lecturer who gave his much knowledge, experiences, and suggestions that very important to me in preparing this thesis. Another thank you for Mr. Dudi Permana, ST., MM., Ph.D as the best lecturer in international class who always give support, suggestions, and motivation from the beginning of international class existing in Mercu Buana until now. Without them, I may not be able to go this far, and also thanks to Dr. Aty Herawati., M.Si as a statistics lecturer and Dr. Dewi Nusraningrum., M.Si as a research method lecturer who gave their knowledge about research that become an important thing to finish this thesis. Not forgetting also to all the lecturers and staffs at international class program, especially to Mr. Anggi and Miss Ratih who contributed both directly and indirectly.

Forth, thanks to people who become as another family to me, to Natalia Stephanie Tiwang and Fanesya Franita Mamuaya as the greatest friend since Vocational High School who always stand by my side to support me directly and indirectly, being the place I share the joy and sorrow, and the place I learn many things about life, to Priska Nia W. A, Mailina, Elizabeth Meirischa, Bayu Kurniawan, Roymondus Adi Nugroho, and F. X. Steven as my best friend since Vocational High School that being a comfort friend to share fun and being an easy-going friend, to Derwin Dirta Jaya as my cousin who has a kind heart to give his free time and help me in finishing this thesis, and also to Sarah Maulidina, Dikco Epranata, and Jerry Yeskilia as another best friend for me who cared and support me by the way they are.

Fifth, I thank my close friend on campus, to Isma Khairani Sinaga and Beby Cinthya Zaenika as my classmates in international class who have a kind heart in sharing their dormitory for me to live, and many thanks to my another
