

ABSTRACT

This study aims to establish good corporate governance. This research uses two variables, independent and dependent where the variables used are good corporate governance, organizational culture and internal control, while dependent variable in this study is the company's performance.

The data collected using the technique (Field Research) is data collection out by survey techniques directly to the field by searching for questionnaires that the respondents addressed in this study were the Director of the Company, Companies and Internal Control in Manufacturing Companies engaged in Food & Beverage in the DKI Jakarta area. The number of questionnaires. The data analysis technique in this study is multiple regression analysis. Based on the result of this study indicate that organizational culture has a positive and significant effect on the performance of a company. While good corporate governance and internal control do not have a positive and insignificant effect on the performance of a company.

Keywords: Effect of Good Corporate Governance, Organizational Culture and Internal Control on the Performance of a Company.

