ABSTRACT

The family is a group or group consisting of father, mother, and child, which is led by a head of family who gathers and lives in one place in a state of interdependence, these people are connected through a Family Relationship relationship. Family Relationship is a relationship that occurs between parents and children, siblings, or cousins.

This research is descriptive qualitative, the paradigm used in this study is a constructivist paradigm using the Charles Sanders Peirce Semiotics Analysis research method which emphasizes a sign.

The results obtained obtained the conclusion that the Family Relationship relationship is represented clearly from the 9 scenes contained in the film, 9 scenes there are signs which are then interpreted as Family Relationship. These signs are included in the characteristics of Family Relationship such as spending time together, respecting, protecting each other, and values & beliefs.
