

The increasing of rareness and price of petroleum make the efforts seeking and exploiting of source of energi other in the place of fuel which non oil continue to be conducted. Alcohol is one of the from so much sources of energi substitution able to be used. This examination is conducted to prove ability of activity an machine if using alcohol fuel added an heater made in in the form of electrical element at carburettor system.